CRIME ALERT

We are experiencing an increase in residential break-ins along the Lineberry Road corridor. Please assist Raleigh Police Department by reporting suspicious people or suspicious activity by calling 9-1-1.

Emergency Community Watch Meeting

When: Thursday, January 14, 2010 from 7:00-8:30pm.
Where: Carolina Pines community center (large room)
Who: Captain Perry will be there to address concerns and provide an update

Sign up to get email updates from the Lineberry Alliance email list at http://lineberry.org then click Mailing list. Also, visit the Pleasant Ridge & Ramsgate Community Watch at http://prr-watch.org. The more people we can inform, the more people we have watching out in our neighborhood.

Here are some tips that can make your home more secure:

- installing deadbolt locks on exterior doors
- ensuring that doors and windows are locked
- adding additional security devices to sliding glass doors
- using curtains and blinds to block view of interior
- trimming landscape which may provide cover
- burning exterior lights when it is dark outside
- installing motion detection light fixtures
- using timers on interior lights
- making your home appear occupied
- using your security system
- having a dog
- having your neighbors keep an eye on your home
- recording serial #'s, model #'s, and brand names
- engraving property with your driver's license number
- taking photos of valuables
- hiding high value items from plain view

Consider becoming more active in a Community Watch group in your neighborhood.
Above all, maintain a heightened awareness of suspicious behavior and report it by calling 9-1-1.
Remember, you are the eyes and ears of your community.
